A Man's Job For Men

HOW about partnership with these men? They are picked recruits. What do you think of them? There is character here and determination and devotion. These men mean business. They are putting their lives and all that they have into the great Missionary Enterprise. They have been preparing for years and are now ready to go.

Their word to you is: "Will You Back Us? Will You Enter Into Partnership With Us? We furnish life,—you furnish money and prayer.

"We give all that we have: will you give a part of the means God has entrusted to you? Together we can do the job: Separately it is impossible. We go. You send. God will give the increase. It is up to you. What do you say?

This sums up a fair proposition to put before our business men and Churches. Any man or Church may thus have a representative on the foreign field. Salaries vary according to the expense of living in the country to which the Missionary goes. Outfit, travel, house rent, fuel, etc., make necessary $1,000 for each man. Their wives are supported by the Women's Boards. Write to Mrs. HALSEY WOOD, 156 Fifth Ave., N. Y. and learn particulars.

One man, a group of men, a Men's Bible Class, a Men's Club, or a Church may enter into this partnership.

REV. EDWARD C. AUSTIN

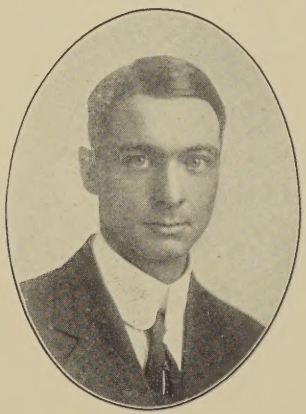
Rev. Edward C. Austin

IS going to Colombia. He has already had six years' experience in Christian work in Peru, living at Cusco ten thousand feet up in the Andes. It took grit and patience and consecrated common sense to carry forward the work of the Kingdom on this far frontier line. Mr. Austin knows Spanish and can immediately enter into the full work of a Missionary in Colombia.

Rev. H. Ray Berger

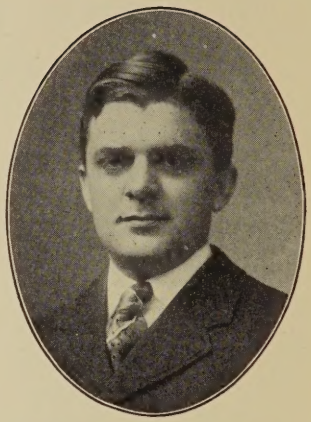
GRADUATED at McCormick Theological Seminary in 1914 expecting to go to Africa. The great war made this impossible as our Africa Mission was closed to new recruits.

Mr. Berger was asked to go to the Philippines and, with the true Missionary spirit, although his heart was set on Africa, he gladly acquiesced in the desire of the Board.



REV. H. RAY BERGER

Rev. Harold C. Anderson



Rev. Harold C. Anderson

HAS already been at work for some little time in Brazil and with good success. He is a graduate of Iowa State University and Princeton Seminary. He took the Old Testament fellowship at Princeton and had a year of graduate work in Berlin. "A man of winning personality and deep spirituality: a strong persistent young man and a growing one." Here is an opportunity to form a partnership which will yield large returns. The great Neglected Continent is rich in possibilities.

Rev. Robert C. Byerly

HAS also had experience on the foreign field, having been for three years a teacher in the Syrian Protestant College at Beirut. He did splendid work while there and was asked to re-return by friends in Syria. He wished to go, but the needs of Persia at the time of his appointment were very great and he was willing to put his life there. Strangely enough, the war has detained him en route for Persia and he is now in Syria. His desire is to work among Mohammedans. He studied at Franklin and Marshall College and Princton Seminary.

DR. NATHANIEL BERCOVITZ

Dr. Nathaniel Bercovitz

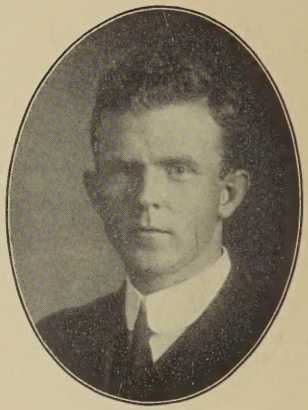
IS a graduate of Occidental College and of the University of California Medical College. He has had experience in Y. M. C. A. evangelistic work and in Rescue Mission Service. For eight years he has been looking forward to the great possibilities of Medical Missions, having for his prime motive "the desire to win souls for Christ"—"the appaling need coupled with the great opportunity has always been the strongest factor in my purpose." Dr. Bercovitz goes to the Hainan Mission where a devoted missionary physician is very greatly needed at this time. He has just finished his interneship at the Los Angeles County Hospital.

Mr. James Vinton Shannon

IS a graduate of Indiana University and has taught in the Indiana Schools — three years as Principal of High School. Last year he held a responsible position in the Horace Mann High School for boys in New York City. "One of the best men that we have ever had in the school." He will be just the right man to help in the educational work of Hainan where we have schools of all grades.

MR. JAMES VINTON SHANNON

Rev. Dwight M. Donaldson

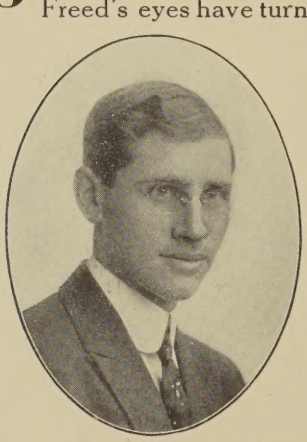


REV. DWIGHT M. DONALDSON

HAS had practical experience as Secretary of the Student Y. M. C. A., assistant pastor, and City Mission worker. He has already served on the Foreign Field, having spent three years as instructor at Forman Christian College, Lahore, India. His heart turns to far away Afghanistan and he asked for appointment to our East Persia Mission. With others he has already sailed for that sadly stricken country, realizing that just now Persia is in need of every Christian man or woman who has the heart and the courage to help her.

Rev. Elmer E. Freed

GUATEMALA is the needy field toward which Mr. Freed's eyes have turned for a number of years, and now, though there is war and turmoil near by, he is being sent to bear the message of the Prince of Peace. Mr. Freed studied at Wooster University and McCormick Theological Seminary from which he goes to the field with hearty commendation. He is musically inclined and well adapted to teach. "He will make a level headed, hard working, Godly missionary." He has had home Mission experience in Montana and Michigan.



REV. ELMER E. FREED

Rev. Henri R. Ferger

Rev. Henri R. Ferger

HAS already "tried himself out" as a "short-term" man at the Gordon Mission College, Rawal Pindi, India. We are thus sending a man who has had experience. He took his B. S. degree at Princeton, his M. A. at Teachers College, New York, and has studied for a year at Union Seminary. He has had experience in the Big Brother Movement and in boys' Y. M. C. A. Camps, and knows how to handle boys. Mr. Ferger has ability and enthusiasm and loves India, for which he has given up business opportunity here at home. He will enter heartily into the life of the young men and boys and in one of our educational institutions—(perhaps a High School in the Punjab)—will bring a well equipped, devoted Christian personality into very close touch with those needy lives of India.

Rev. Edgar C. Short

AN Oberlin College man with Seminary courses at Auburn and Oberlin. He has had some business experience and is an adept in stenography and typewriting. He has done summer preaching on the home mission field. "He combines intellectual strength with religious conviction and spiritual earnestness and Christian piety and common good sense."

We are sending him to our Central Brazil Mission. This is his preference since his "missionary purpose had its beginnings in interests in South America."

REV. GRAHAM FULLER

WITH a two year agricultural course, four years civil engineering, together with experience in architects' and civil engineers' offices, and finally the complete theological course at McCormick, here is certainly an "all around man." Missionary service calls for every bit of equipment and experience that a man can acquire, many missionaries being obliged to act as architects and builders in wood and stone as well as in character and life.

Mr. Fuller is eminently fitted for both. In the architects' offices where he worked, it often happened that he "could not see the houses he was trying to draw, but a map of the Foreign Field." He was ready to go to "China, or Africa, or any place the Board may indicate." This is the spirit of the true missionary. We are sending him to far away North Siam --one of the choice men of this year's recruits.

Rev. Clifford A. Douglass

ANOTHER man who has worked his way through and knows what life means. He is a graduate of Occidental College and San Francisco Seminary. He has been a winner of souls. Has preached in Rescue Mission in San Francisco with telling effect. He has done splendid work with boys.

REV. CLIFFORD A. DOUGLASS

"You can depend upon him to do heroic work in practical Evangelism. He will preach a Gospel that is not a philosophy but a force. He will never be afraid of anything, and if there are hardships he will take them as a matter of course." Mr. Douglass goes to Colombia where missionaries are few and possibilities great. Who will enter into partnership with him in his heroic work for The Neglected Continent?

Mr. Olin W. McMillen

GOES to South China to assist in educational work. He has already had two years of experience as teacher in the Arlington Training School for Boys, Arlington, Texas. He is a graduate of the University of Missouri and of the Missouri State Military School and will be a good drill master. In Sunday School and Boys' Club work he has shown himself efficient. While preferring a Spanish-speaking country because of knowledge of the language, Mr. McMillen was willing to go where the Board should direct. He is a fine personality, attractive, cheerful, and energetic. He has been a successful teacher and possesses that most desirable quality in a missionary of ability to work well with others.

MR. OLIN W. MCMILLEN

Dr. Wm. Henry Adolph and Mr. Harold W. Harkness

ARE BOTH assigned to the Shantung Mission and expect to give their lives in educational work at Shantung Christian University, one of the finest institutions of its kind in China. Four or five hundred students are awaiting them. In five years there will be a thousand. These young men are to train the future leaders of China.

Dr. Adolph has just completed his graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania, taking a Ph. D. with Chemistry as his major subject. He is a man of fine spirit and most attractive character. Having already had three years intimate contact with Chinese students in this country, he is especially prepared to enter into the student life at Shantung University, and to exert a strong Christian influence among its students.

Mr. Harkness is a minister's son and comes to us from Canada, having been released to us through the courtesy of the Canadian Presbyterian Board. He is a graduate of Queens University, Ontario, and has seen some home Mission service. He has specialized in Engineering. Shantung University will have use for every talent he possesses as it sends its hundreds of Christian students forth into the life of the New China.

DR. WM. HENRY ADOLPH

MR. HAROLD W. HARKNESS

WITH which of these will you join in partnership? Your contribution is to be an extra, a clean plus over and above what you or your church or organization are now giving to the Foreign Board. What you are now giving is needed to carry on work already begun. These salaries start a new series of obligations on the part of the Board and call for absolutely new money. Here are fifteen men. There are ten more. We ask for twenty-five salaries in annual pledges of $1,000 each.
